Lessons from 1 King 17:17-24

- God has a strange habit of going silent when we stop listening to his Word.
- God often works through inactivity and apparent insignificance.
- God often works through the quiet lives of unlikely people.
- God works by defeating death.

Prophet Elijah Criticized For Not Being More Seeker-Friendly

CHURCH · Oct 25, 2018 · BabylonBee.com

U.S. - A coalition of seeker-sensitive pastors released a statement Thursday condemning the prophet Elijah for not using more seeker-friendly methods in his prophetic ministry.

Lessons from 1 Kings 18

- God is the kind of God who always has multiple plans going at the same time.
- God uses all kinds of people in all kinds of roles—and he uses them in the right places.
- God repeatedly does the unexpected.

Lessons from 1 Kings 18

- When we are sure we are in the will of God we are invincible.
- Divided allegiance is as wrong as idolatry.
- The most effective tool is the prayer of faith
- Never underestimate the power of one totally dedicated life.
- Theology leads to discipleship.
